

Work Together, Poston Advises

Solve Problems, Then Seek Industry, Expert Says at County Meeting

Communities should get their houses in order before seeking industry, declared Richard W. Poston, director of the Department of Community Development at Southern Illinois University to a handful of persons from Carrier Mills, Eldorado and Harrisburg last night at the Harrisburg city hall.

Poston declared there's a mass psychology developing that he called "waiting for the factory disease," and told of its dangers.

"These people don't see the problems of getting the factory," he said. "A new factory is their only measure of community development. Problems must first be worked out and there is an unwillingness to work out our own problems."

Tells of Problems

Poston said to the seven from

Eldorado, the six from Harrisburg and the two from Carrier Mills that there are communities all over the nation, trying to do the same thing that the communities of Saline county and southern Illinois are trying to do—trying to entice industry that definitely cannot be spread around to all who want it.

He asked those present to think honestly and try to come up with one good reason why an industry should choose this place over another.

After giving a history of southern Illinois and Saline county and giving the reasons for their being in the economic condition they are in today, he told of problems that must be worked out.

"The fundamental problem," he said, "is the problem of adults divided into factions. People pull separately instead of together."

Inter-Community Jealousies

"It is not uncommon," he continued, "for a person to start something worthwhile and get immediate opposition from people because they don't care for the person who started it."

"And we find many who think they are too good to buckle down with others."

Then he brought up inter-community jealousies.

"They're so serious that we find communities close together that are trying to undermine each other."

"And if one community does something, often another community tries to discredit it."

Mr. Poston began his talk by declaring "we have the resources in our area but we don't make the most of what we have. We import about everything we use and the jobs that make the things we use are somewhere else."

In southern Illinois, he said, some towns are in a "twilight zone" between maturity and deterioration. "These communities can still do something," he stated.

How to do it, he said, is to learn how to diagnose our own ills and work out our own solutions.

Take Advantage of Services

In relating the history of southern Illinois, Mr. Poston brought out these points:

The glacier left materials that resulted in a deep and fertile soil in central and northern Illinois and a relatively thin soil, less fertile, in the southern part. Rainfall in southern Illinois is erratic, with usually either too much or not enough, and with the type of soil and topography that is in southern Illinois, lots of topsoil goes down the river and is lost.

In Saline county, he said, 21 per cent of the soil is so eroded it cannot be used and one half the soil is so eroded that one can barely make a living.

"Worst thing regarding this," he said, "is that we as people haven't educated ourselves to use the lands we have to the best advantage."

William Robert Durham Receives His Doctor Of Medicine Degree

William Robert Durham

William Robert Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Durham, 211 East Ford Harrisburg, graduated with the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the University of Illinois Chicago Professional Colleges Friday, June 15, at 10:30 a. m. in the Drill Hall at Navy Pier. He originally received his degree March 24, 1955, but graduated with his class June 15.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Durham, a sister, Mrs. Darrell Hodson, a brother, Darrell Durham, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hall and daughter, Janet, attended the commencement.

Durham attended SIU four years for his pre-med and then received his bachelor of science degree in medicine from the University of Illinois School of Medicine in 1954.

He began his year of internship April 1 at the Illinois Central hospital in Chicago and plans to return to this area in the future.

Senate Passes Fluorspar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing the stockpiling of domestic fluorspar is awaiting action by the House of Representatives.

The Senate passed the bill sponsored by Sen. Everett Dirksen late Monday. The measure provides for the purchase of at least 250,000 tons of newly mined domestic fluorspar, a material used in manufacturing steel and aluminum.

There are extensive fluorspar deposits in southern Illinois. However, many of the mines have closed down because of the competition from imports of foreign fluorspar.

Dirksen said today he believes the House will add its approval to the measure, which, he said, has the backing of the administration. Dirksen said purchases called for in the bill would be in effect until December 1958. He said he expects the government to announce by June 26 the price to be paid for the domestic fluorspar.

Benson Aide Quits, Faces Senate Probers

McLeish Resigns Under Fire as FHA Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert B. McLeish, who quit under fire as director of the Farmers Home Administration, told Senate investigators today he never drank "to excess" on the job.

But he conceded he often drank "with friends," including "quite a few people here on Capitol Hill." He did not identify them.

"Four or five drinks wouldn't affect me at all, spread over a long enough time," McLeish said.

He testified before a Senate civil service subcommittee investigating the agency's operations. In addition to his personal habits, the subcommittee planned to question McLeish about his handling of the agency and cancellation of a one-million-dollar-a-year insurance contract.

McLeish, who had told the United Press Tuesday that Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson did not request his resignation, testified under oath today that Benson "strongly suggested that I resign."

"The secretary told me the situation was not good for the organization," McLeish said. "I didn't have to resign, but he thought it might be best for me if I left."

He said the White House did not ask him to quit.

McLeish conceded he made a "mistake" in listing his previous salary as $8,000 annually when he filled out a government employment form in 1953. Actually, he said, the salary was $6,000 a year.

McLeish testified that until his resignation he held a top secret security clearance which take drinking habits into consideration. He said he felt he was "suitable" for the clearance, but added that "that's a matter of opinion."

"I don't think I'm a habitual drunkard or even a casual drunkard," he said. "I have issued strict instructions that no employees of the Farmers Home Administration do any drinking during hours of official duty."

He insisted he followed that rule himself, except that he "might have a drink during the day while traveling."

He said charges that he drank heavily came mostly from former employees who were discharged when he reduced the staff after taking office in 1953.

He testified that he did not drink while attending field meetings "until the meetings were over."

McLeish's resignation was announced by the White House late Tuesday. It came a couple of hours after a Texas insurance company official testified that McLeish once asked if he could give some government insurance business to "friends of the administration."

Earlier witnesses before the subcommittee testified that McLeish got drunk at a Montana dinner following a meeting of several state FHA directors in 1954, and that he drank a fifth of whisky in the space of two hours during a visit to Denver.

The White House said McLeish's request for an immediate resignation "will be accepted." He said he wanted to quit for reasons of health.

Electrocutes Wife With Light Cord While Scrubbing Her Back

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—Paul Ault, a 56-year-old storekeeper, confessed to electrocuting his wife with a light cord while he scrubbed her back in the bathtub, police reported Tuesday.

His wife Pauline, 51, was found last week in the tub, her back badly burned.

Under questioning he confessed he electrocuted her in the zinc-lined tub with the raw end of a light cord. He told police he wanted to marry a younger girl and knew the plan would work because he already had killed his dog that way.

Council Awards Paving Contract, Buys Tractor

The Harrisburg city council yesterday awarded the contract for the South Main street paving job and bought a tractor.

The paving contract was awarded to the Mitchell Construction Co. of Herrin to pave with bituminous concrete the stretch of South Main from McHaney to Robinson and Robinson from South Main to Granger.

Bids were opened a week ago and Mitchell's bid of $59,891.61 was low.

The council opened tractor bids from six area farm implement dealers and voted to buy a Case tractor from the Waddell Welding and Equipment Co. of Pankeyville. Horsepower as well as price was considered and the fact that the city's present highlight can be used with the Case was a point in the decision.

John C. Porter appeared before the council in behalf of E. E. Goad and J. H. Dunn, Decatur, Ill., oil operators, who would like to drill for oil in Gaskins City. Harrisburg now has an ordinance prohibiting drilling within the city limits.

Porter said the operators would bond the contractors and themselves against any personal or property damage that might possibly occur, since the big point against drilling in the city ordinance was the hazard involved.

He also said that the owners of the mineral rights had indicated they would give a percentage of the royalty interests involved to the present property owners.

Independence Voters Reject Road Bonds

Independence township, by a vote of more than three to one, yesterday downed a proposition to issue $30,000 in bonds for road purposes.

The vote was 162 against and 51 for the proposal.

Begin Wheat Harvest in County; Good Crops Reported by Kimmel

This week marks the beginning of a wheat harvest totalling between 250,000 and 400,000 bushels in Saline county, where the yield per acre ranges from 15 to 65 bushels. Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel estimates that many crops this year will yield 40 bushels to the acre.

At the office of Edgar V. Thompson, Agricultural Stabilization Conservation agent, it was learned that Saline county was allotted 11,250 acres to wheat acreage last fall. More than ten thousand acres are known to have been planted to wheat, Mr. Thompson said, and reports continue to come in of additional acreage.

Extra good stands of wheat are reported by Mr. Kimmel on the farms of Isaac White, Cottage; A. J. Tison, Long Branch; David Lewis, Brushy; C. J. Wagner, Eldorado; and Willie Robinson and Robert Alvey in Cottage township. Mr. White opened his fields to combining Monday.

First to combine and deliver his wheat to the Harrisburg Mill and Elevator in this city was Elmer Nurrenberg, Carrier Mills, Saturday, according to Manager John Deputy, who is experienced in both the buying and selling of wheat and has stated that the big mill here will equal market prices this year.

While wheat and corn crops both look extra good, better than they have in three years, Mr. Kimmel says, the barley crop which is also being harvested is not so good.

The farm adviser made a trip to Indiana and Ohio a short time ago and his observation was that the corn crops between Harrisburg and Mt. Carmel will compare favorably with any in the middle part of Illinois and are better than was seen in Ohio and Indiana. Bean crops are also looking very good, Mr. Kimmel said.

Hot winds have taken some of the moisture out of the ground, but frequent showers have helped to offset the drying effect that extremely hot days brought about.

Father Learns Two Children Aboard Plane in Sea Crash

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—George Witter, informed that his only two children were reported aboard an airliner which crashed at sea, said today, "It just can't be—it can't."

Witter said his children, George Louis, 12, and Dorothy Ann, 14, were going on a vacation to Caracas, Venezuela, with their maternal aunt, Mrs. Russell Antidel, and her mother. Witter said he assumed the women were with the children.

"They were both brilliant musicians and 'A' students," he said. "They've been saving up for this trip for two years. Their uncle—he's a wealthy contractor there—invited them."

Rites at Stonefort Thursday for Mrs. Lay

Funeral services for Mrs. Belle Lay will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort.

Rev. Fred Neibel, pastor of the Ozark Baptist church, will officiate and burial will be in the Robinson cemetery near Ozark.

She is survived by four children: Mrs. Nina York, Gary, Ind.; Benson Lay, Chicago; Mrs. June Saines, Jackson, Mich.; and Mrs. Lea Grison, Hudson, Ohio.

Inspirational Kiwanis Report By Carmi Man

An inspirational report on what Kiwanis is doing and what it means to the individual members and the communities in the U. S. and Canada was given to the local club last night at the Masonic temple by Allen Ball, a past lieutenant governor of Division 15 of the Illinois Eastern Iowa district of Kiwanis International.

Mr. Ball is a druggist at Carmi and an active member of the Carmi club. He was accompanied to the local meeting by Millage Carter, F. J. Reinwald and R. F. Ragsdale, members of the Carmi club.

This week Kiwanis International is holding its convention in San Francisco, Mr. Ball stated, and is dedicating itself to the ideals and purposes of the organization.

Services which Kiwanis clubs render include 6,000,000 for youth, 4,000,000 for hospitals and one and a half million for churches, Mr. Ball stated. They also include sending 74,000 children to summer camps, aid to Boy Scouts and thousands of dollars in student loans, among many others, he said.

"The individual Kiwanian's influence is multiplied thousands of times in various communities in the U. S. and Canada," Mr. Ball stated.

"To do your part in your club is good for you and also good for your community," he concluded.

Mr. Ball was introduced by Loy Barger, a past lieutenant governor of Division 16.

Dick Davenport made an appeal to the local club members to support the Red Cross Blood program by either donating blood to the bloodmobile on its visit here or to contribute money to support the program. Following his appeal the club voted to support the program one hundred per cent.

It was also announced that a new Dale Carnegie course would begin here in September under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club. The first course has just been completed.

Postpone Meeting Of Presidents Due to Eisenhower's Illness

The meeting probably will be held sometime next month, but official sources said it has not yet been possible to set a new date.

20 Americans Killed in Worst Civilian Disaster

Pilot Was Trying To Return to New York Airport

NEW YORK (AP)—A flaming Venezuelan airline Super Constellation crashed and disappeared into the Atlantic Ocean today, killing 74 persons, including 20 Americans, in the worst civilian airline disaster in aviation history.

The plane hurtled almost straight down into calm seas only seven minutes' flying time from a possible emergency landing at New York's Idlewild Airport.

Its pilot was trying desperately to return to land because the plane had a faulty engine.

The humpbacked airliner struck the water with a cascade of flames and spray. It disappeared nose-down before the eyes of horrified passengers aboard an Eastern Airlines plane flying to Puerto Rico and the crew of a Coast Guard Albatross amphibian.

Only minutes before, radio operators manning the air-rescue circuit heard the pilot jubilantly report he had sighted the shore.

Recover Two Bodies

A U. S. Navy transport, the Lt. Robert Craig, recovered two bodies and reported it had sighted several more. It transferred the bodies to the Coast Guard cutter Tamara and resumed its course to Bremerhaven, Germany.

A Coast Guard patrol boat found parts of several more bodies.

The airliner had some women and children aboard. French, Swiss, Spanish and Italian passengers were aboard in addition to Venezuelans and Americans. It was bound for Venezuela.

The Lines Aeropostal Venezolana (LAV) airliner was attempting to limp back to New York with one of its four engines crippled. The Coast Guard Albatross was escorting it when it suddenly plunged down.

Location of the disaster was about 35 miles east of Asbury Park, N. J., and 40 miles south of New York City.

The airliner was about 200 miles out of New York flying nonstop to Caracas, Venezuela, when the pilot radioed at 12:24 a. m. that the No. 2 engine was running wild and he was returning to Idlewild.

Fourth Worst Crash

The loss of 74 lives was the largest death toll of any regular airline service crash. It was the fourth worst crash in aviation history.

The dead included 18 American passengers and two American crewmen. The other passengers were 42 Venezuelans, 2 Spaniards, 1 Frenchman and 1 Swiss. The other crewmembers were 6 Venezuelans, 1 Frenchman and 1 Italian.

Girl En Route to Visit Parents Among Plane Dead

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania girl en route to visit her parents in South America was one of the 74 persons killed today in the crash of a Venezuelan airline Super Constellation in the Atlantic Ocean.

The girl, Michelle Cassidy, 17, formerly of Latrobe, Va., had just graduated from Meyersdale Joint High School. She had lived with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Knecht, here.

Her father, Gilbert Cassidy, is assistant manager of the Sibers Steel Co. plant at Caracas, Venezuela. Michelle remained behind when her parents and two younger sisters, Patricia, 14, and Casey, 7, went to South America three years ago. She planned to enroll at Seton Hall College at Greensburg, Pa., in the fall to study to be a teacher.

Unusual Father's Day Cake Looks Just Like Shirt

I SAW a most unusual Father's Day gift yesterday. It was a shirt. Not an ordinary shirt, mind you; it was a cake shirt.

Yessiree it was a cake baked just like a shirt. When you took the lid off the box, it was just like a shirt folded up in a box at the clothing store.

The cake belonged to C. F. Gidcumb. It was made by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Gidcumb of Anna, and brought here to Mr. Gidcumb as a Father's Day token.

And the size of the shirt collar was 14½.

The cake's sleeves were folded so that you could see the French cuffs, and there were cuff links on them. The shirt, cream colored, had a chocolate brown tie, all tied up, with the initials "C. F. G." on it.

The cake looks too good to eat, but it would really taste good, Mr. Gidcumb knows. That's because Mrs. Gidcumb made another one for Charles and they had eaten part of it.

HUMOR DEPT.: A hillbilly discovered a mirror which had been left by a tourist.

"Well if it ain't my old pappy," he said to himself. I never knowed he had his picture took."

He sneaked the mirror home and hid it in the attic but his wife spied.

Next day, when he left the house, his wife went to the attic and found the mirror.

"Aha!" she exclaimed looking into the glass. "So that's the old bat he's been running around with!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Greatest Snow Job in Washington History Is Taking Place. Despite The Heat Wave; Ike's Aides Seek To Sell Him As Much As Public On Running Again; They Use Same Tactics They Adopted After Denver.

WASHINGTON. — There's been a heat wave in Washington. Despite this, the greatest snow job ever seen by newspapermen is taking place in the nation's capital.

It's a snow job to convince a 60-year-old man who has had a serious heart attack plus a major operation, who's laid for four days with an intensely uncomfortable tube reaching to the pit of his stomach, and a tube stuck in the veins of his arm to get nourishment, and who didn't want to run in the first place, that he must, come what may, run again.

It's also a snow job to convince the American public that this man will be hopping out of bed in a short time, more fit than ever to run, and that he's making major decisions affecting the peace of the world despite a post-operation fever and the excruciatingly uncomfortable tube through the nose to the depths of his bowels.

Vivisection with all its cruelty could be no more inhuman than the almost public torture to which a little group of aides have put this man for the purpose of convincing him, as much as the public, that an unwilling, weary body must be thrown into the political breach again.

As Senator Jenner of Indiana so crudely and brazenly put it to newspapermen: "We'll stuff him and run him anyway."

This, of course, will be denied. It came from a man who on the Senate floor called Ike's best military friend, Gen. George Marshall, a traitor; who opposed Ike's nomination, but who, when he himself faced possible defeat in 1952, held up Ike's arm as a referee holds up a champ boxer's, and smiled for the newscams as if he was the closest friend Ike ever had.

Jenner, like Chairman Len Hall—who pounded on the table after the President's operation and insisted: "It's still Eisenhower all the way"—wants to stay in power.

SET-BACK FOR PEACE

However, there are things more important than winning an election or keeping a political party in power.

This country was shaken and set back in the quest for peace when a Democratic White House staff and a President's wife hid from the country the fact that Woodrow Wilson was incapable of performing the duties of his office.

The country again was set back in 1944 when a group of willful Democratic leaders bent on staying in power, rammed through the nomination of the aging, perhaps dying Franklin Roosevelt as the war was coming to an end, when Harry Truman had little preparation for the great post-war task ahead.

Today a little group of willful Republicans are determined to make history repeat.

However, one man who will not put political greed ahead of country, I am convinced, is Dwight D. Eisenhower—if he knows the facts. But the cabal around him has been conducting a careful psychological snow-job as he lies helpless in bed, not only to keep the facts from him but to keep them from the public—facts which the Mayo Clinic and the New England Medical Journal report regarding the probable recurrence of his stomach ailment.

PSYCHOLOGICAL BUILD UP

The pattern is exactly that followed at Denver and thereafter to convince an unwilling, reluctant, even protesting President, that he must be the vehicle for their return to power.

The pattern is ably described by Fletcher Knebel of Look Magazine, published by Ike's close friend Mike Cowles.

"Hall decided on a huge bluff," says Look, in describing how the GOP chairman carefully built up the public's and Ike's own confidence that he could run after his heart attack. "He decided to face the New York newsmen and tell them that nothing had changed. Hall had not the faintest hope that Ike ever would run again... but he boldly told the incredulous newsmen there had been no change."

"Gradually he erected a psychological framework... and gradually Ike came to believe it was quite natural that a man who had had a heart attack should run for President."

"Had the wrong thing been said at that time," revealed Knebel, "the idea of a second term might never have been considered seriously... Milton said privately there wasn't one chance in a hundred that Ike would seek another term. Mamie assumed her husband would be through with politics."

But the men around Ike, using astute psychological build-ups, saying the right thing at the right time, completely reversed that negative attitude.

FATAL MIDNIGHT

The rest of the story is well-known — except the manner in which the work piled up, the tempo of the White House pace stepped up. First there were few appointments, then a full schedule. First there were to be no ceremonies, no dinners, then a round of Gridiron Club, White House correspondents, White House photographers dinners. At first there was to be no campaigning, then definite hints, in fact, demands that there must be some barnstorming, that Ike would have to tour the restless farm belt.

Politics is a cruel business. The more the Democrats talked about a part-time President, the faster became the pace—until that fateful midnight June 7 when the pace proved too much.

Then within minutes after the patient had come out from the anesthetic, the psychological build-up, the snow-job began all over again.

"He will be able to run as planned," announced Maj. Gen. Leonard Heaton, who if the same patient were still in the Army would have retired him for both health and age, but who now pushed him as he lay dazed and helpless with a tube down his stomach and a tube sticking into his arm, into the much more crushing burden of another four years as President.

Bikini, Eniwetok May Be Permanently Uninhabitable

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The islands of Bikini and Eniwetok may have been rendered permanently uninhabitable by the deadly fallout from United States atomic and hydrogen weapons tests, a United Nations report indicated today.

The report said inhabitants of the two atolls in the Marshall Islands possibly may never return to their ancestral home islands, scene of the American nuclear weapons tests.

The report was made by a U. N. mission which visited the Pacific trust territory administered by the United States. It was submitted today for discussion in the Trusteeship Council.

The book is a collection of cartoons 85 famous artists made of the chief executive.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

STOP watches are delicate instruments for the measurement of time required for a certain event to take place. The watch is started when the activity begins, and it is stopped when a goal has been reached. The watch shows how much time elapsed during the occurrence.

Many people jokingly wish for stop watches which could stop the passing of time. Fortunately, we cannot stop time. When we stop the watch, it is only a man-made mechanism which ceases to record the passing of seconds, minutes or hours.

We ourselves can stand still and let time pass us by. We can waste the hours doing unimportant things. We can destroy items in a moment of anger which can never be replaced. The material things destroyed may be of little value.

The spiritual and moral values destroyed in a moment of indifference or wasted effort can have lasting effect on the lives of others. In fact, when we destroy spiritual values we harm ourselves more than we hurt others.

We cannot make time stand still. We cannot stand still ourselves without being left behind. We must not waste our living hours in destruction which we cannot rebuild.

God requires of us that we give a good account of our lives and our use of time. After all, time belongs to God. It is only used by men.

Egypt Parades Military Might With Soviet Arms

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser took Egypt's newly-acquired Soviet arms off the secret list today with a mammoth parade of Egyptian military might.

Stalin tanks, heavy guns and armored cars rumbled through Republic Square in the biggest military parade ever held in Egypt. Mig-15 jets and Ilyushin bombers flashed overhead.

It was an all-out show of strength in the same square where Nasser said Tuesday night Egypt hoped for a free Arab world which would stretch from Morocco to Iraq, and urged the freeing of Palestine.

German-trained Egyptian troops marched through the square in a semi-goose step. With them were token forces and military bands from Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, The Yemen, The Sudan, Libya and Palestine.

On the reviewing stand were representatives of the Arab states, Dmitri Shepilov, the Soviet foreign minister, and Sir Brian Robertson, the last British commander of British forces in Egypt.

Tall Drifter

By W. Edmunds Claussen

Copr. 1956 by W. Edmunds Claussen, Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Although Emmett Cash tried to make an outlaw of Frank Ude the tall drifter parts company with Emmett and rides to the Rafter C where Emmett's half-sister Jean Cash, has offered him a job.

XV

Frank Ude was thinking about the confidence Jean Cash obviously possessed, to lead her ranch hands to expect his arrival. "No trouble finding the place," he said. "You always on the lookout for strangers?"

The old man chuckled noisily. "Nope, we ain't partial to outsiders. Not in this country. Far as you was concerned, she was feared you'd get yourself into a fight." Frank swung his gaze in time to catch the horse-breaker make his cast toward the horses milling around the inner edge of the enclosure. He saw the rope run over a bay gelding, part Morgan, part thoroughbred. It was a wild-eyed, game little horse that tossed his mane as the rope hit him then started to leap. But there were other horses crowded around him and there was no place in which he could escape.

The old man climbed down from the fence and swung open a door in the slabbing. Once on the ground he walked with all the bow-legged malformity his pose atop the slabs had suggested. This came from spending his life aboard a saddle, Frank decided. When he had the gate open the old man hazed the other horses through the chute into a holding pen. That left the horse-breaker alone with the roped bay.

Frank had never seen an animal broken so gently before. Round and round ran the bay gelding, kicking his heels against the planks. The dust lifted in layers and the roll of the wind swept it across the corral. All the while the breaker kept the rope taut, playing with the bay like a fish, wearing him down but not injuring him.

When the horse commenced to tire the breaker drew in slowly. All the while he kept talking. The sound of the voice sent an exhilaration through Frank. This was a woman's voice Jean Cash topped off her own mounts!

Now she had the horse at her shoulder, allowing him to sniff at her hand. She led him to a corner where her saddle and bridle lay on the ground. Frank began to appreciate the advantages of the square breaking pen the way Jean used it. In the corners a breaker could work near his animal. Unlike the usual round pen, the corner presented a constant choice of a turn for the horse. Frank saw that Jean would teach the gelding more swiftly the meaning of the rein than she could have done without that constant choice of a turn at each blind corner. He studied her work admiring her skill, and knowing he was watching a performance few men had the privilege of witnessing.

She stayed in her saddle until she had ridden the meanness off the bay. For the first time now she paid Frank the compliment of acknowledging his presence. He dropped down into the pen knowing she had appealed to him earlier, in Cashtown, with desperation urging her on, and he had failed her.

The bay stood in sweaty heat showing very little fright when Frank unsaddled him. The surprising thing had been that the bay had not bucked under Jean.

"Buck? Sure he'd buck," Jean smiled. "I just don't give him a chance. I do what I call gentle breaking of my horses. The thing to remember is that you're making a friend of your animals. It's something few breakers care about."

"You might say the same about a man," she told him with her smile dying. "Except the usual male creature hasn't the sense of a horse—and can never have the manners."

It was rebuff for his refusal to work for her earlier in the afternoon. He wondered if she was still annoyed by him; if this bite of vitriol was all the reprimand she would give him.

She asked seriously, "I've been wondering what's wrong in your past. Have you ridden the outlaw trails?"

"There's been no lawman on my tracks until this afternoon," he told her levelly. "Not until I rode with your brother."

It was an unintentional slap in return for her own frankness. She was looking at him and he noted particularly no altering of her expression. But he knew he had hit hard with those words. "You've changed your mind since this afternoon?" she said.

Frank rolled a cigaret. "Yes. There's something I've got to say, ma'am. You'll sure do."

"I should tell you I don't need you anymore. It would serve you right," she said calmly. "But I can't. Rafter C needs a man."

She let her glance run past him, hoping he would miss the strange excitement that swept her. In his quiet pronouncement she had read a high tribute. All other flattery men had ever spoken to her had been empty, inept, in view of the simple praise Frank had paid her. He was a big man, solid in spirit and mind, larger than she had at first supposed, and his compliment thrilled her as men's talk had never thrilled before. At the outset she had judged him as one who knew how to use a gun, but now this part seemed to have receded into secondary importance.

He kept regarding her as she stood facing the scarlet sunset. This Jean Cash wasn't Janet of the Anchor. Jean was clean and strong, a woman who enjoyed the battle against the wilful spirit of her horses.

Peoria Voters to Decide Fluoridation

PEORIA (AP)—The Peoria City Council's policy committee voted unanimously Monday night to let the voters decide in the November election whether to fluoridate the city's water.

The council, on record as favoring fluoridation, ran into opposition to the plan. Dr. E. H. Bronner of Los Angeles disputed statements by the American Dental Assn. that use of the chemical is a safe method of preventing tooth decay in children.

He told the committee that, should fluorine be used, it should be in a calcium compound instead of the more common sodium compound.

Seville Quits as Head Grid, Track Coach At McLeansboro High

MCLEANSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Leroy Seville, head football and track coach of McLeansboro high school has resigned.

It was learned today that Seville resigned from his twin-coaching posts Friday to take a job in private industry.

Seville coached one year at McLeansboro after a year of coaching at Carterville. He is a graduate of Southern Illinois university. No successor has been named.

Teen Town Notes

By John Seright

Hi gang! Say . . . Teen Town was really jumping last Monday night wasn't it.

News from the Penthouse is sort of getting that summer "lag" so I'll be having a shorter column for a while.

Anyway . . . here goes with what little I know.

Friday, June 15, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Doom chaperoned for the Lions Club.

Monday, June 18, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reynolds chaperoned with Bill Holloman.

Since I can't find much news to pass on to you I'll give you all an idea how to decorate those big beach towels. You could personalize them by making your own footprint on them with textile paint.

CAUTION . . . don't use your mother's new beach towel cause "she won't appreciate it one bit."

Guess I'd better close with that bit of news.
SEE YOU AT TEEN TOWN.

Tito, Soviets Agree to Renew Party Relations

MOSCOW (AP)—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and the leaders of the Soviet Union said today the question of Formosa should be settled in accordance "with the rights" of Communist China.

Tito and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin signed a joint communique which also expressed regret that the Peiping government's "rights" had not been recognized in the United Nations.

At the same time Tito signed a separate communique with Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev restoring relations between their parties, torn asunder in 1948 when Tito and his party were drummed out of the international Cominform.

After the signing, Tito decorated Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov with a Yugoslav military medal. Accepting, Zhukov said:

"The Soviet Union will do all possible to insure peace in the world. But if war is imposed on us we will be together as in the last war, for human happiness. I am convinced that the people of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia will march arm in arm in the struggle for peace and socialism."

Tito did not respond to the statement.

Tito and Bulganin issued a rosy worded joint statement which ended their top-level talks with the announcement of "a new stage" in relations between the two Communist countries.

This was Tito's first visit to Moscow since Josef Stalin ousted him from the Cominform — the Communist Information Bureau that coordinated party activities — and the communique showed he and the Soviet leaders thought the same on many world issues.

Judges Like Vacations

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight Chicago U. S. District Court judges turned down today a Justice Department plea to work all summer. Judge John P. Barnes, spokesman for the group, said the courtrooms are not air conditioned and added, "chaos would result if the judges continued to sit — besides, our vacations were planned for months in advance."

Sheriffs, Mayors and Local Police Urged to Enforce July 4 Traffic

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Local police and sheriffs today were urged to intensify traffic enforcement for the July 4th holiday in a "sustained local safety program."

The State Division of Traffic Safety announced it had asked all sheriffs and police departments in cities of more than 1,000 population to step up local efforts at accident prevention.

Gov. William G. Stratton also sent letters to all mayors and sheriffs asking their cooperation in the traffic safety program.

Admits Farmers Throw Toll Road Crews Off Their Land

that some northern Illinois farmers have thrown commission surveying crews off their land.

But fast conciliatory action has generally succeeded in mollifying the angry farmers, Wyman added.

"About 7,200 parcels of land are involved in arrangements for the toll highway system. Some friction is inevitable. I respect owners for sticking up for their rights. Thus far, I believe, our batting average in relation with farmers is good, all things considered."

The building industry now accounts for about 30 per cent of world aluminum consumption. About one-quarter of all new window installations are aluminum.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our dear mother, Fronia Burns, who left us one year ago June 19th, 1955. Though suffering, she breathed not a murmur.
For the Comforter stood by her side
And whispered: "Fear not, I am with thee."
With Me shalt thou ever abide.
On the river a pale boatman hastened.
She heard the soft dip of his oar:
Then from earth and sorrow he bore her
Across to that beautiful shore.
Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren. *301-1

Cardinals Beat Dodgers, 6-0, as Murray Dickson Hurls Three-Hit Shutout

By United Press
Murray Dickson helped pitch the St. Louis Cardinals to their last National league pennant 10 years ago and today, at 40, he wouldn't mind history repeating itself at all. Back in 1948, Dickson used his fast ball to win; last night he relied mainly on his knuckler to post a three-hit 6-0 victory over the Dodgers and boost the Cards to within a mere three percentage points of the National league lead. Dickson's shutout was the first against Brooklyn this season and it was also the first against the Dodgers at Ebbets Field since he, himself, blanked them as a member of the Phillies on Aug. 22, 1954. Stan Musial and Bobby Morgan each clipped Sandy Koufax for two-run homers in the first inning and Dickson had clear sailing from then on as he faced only 32 batters and did not permit a base runner to reach second until two were out in the ninth.

Fans Seven Dodgers
Dickson struck out seven and walked only three. The only Dodger batter who gave him any trouble was Pee Wee Reese, collector of all three Brooklyn hits.

The Braves won their fourth game in a row under new Manager Fred Haney and climbed to within a half-game of first place with a 5-3 triumph over the Pirates, who dropped to fourth place. Lefty Lou Sleater, summoned to Lew Burdette's relief with two out and runners on second and third in the ninth, struck out Bill Virdon to save Burdette's sixth victory. Hank Aaron and Bill Brunt each drove in two runs as Bob Friend absorbed his fourth defeat against 11 victories. Del Ennis' 11th homer with one on highlighted a four-run rally in the eighth inning that gave the Phillies a 4-2 decision over league-leading Cincinnati. Johnny Klippstein had a three-hit shutout until the eighth when a walk, a single by Marv Blaylock and Stan Lopata's triple tied the score. Ennis then followed with his homer, which was the 244th of his career with the Phillies and broke the previous club record of 243 held by Chuck Klein. Jack Meyer pitched the last two innings, struck out four batters and was rewarded with his fourth victory.

Shutout for Antonelli
Southpaw Johnny Antonelli of the Giants shut out the Cubs, 2-0, on five hits while striking out seven batters and walking none. The Giants got to Bob Rush for a run in the second inning on Willie Mays' triple and Bill Sarni's sacrifice fly, then added another run in the seventh on a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Daryl Spencer.

In the American league, the pace-setting Yankees reeled off their sixth straight victory when they beat their No. 1 nemesis, Frank Lary of the Tigers, 5-3. Lary, a three-time winner over the Yanks this season, had a 3-0 lead going into the seventh when New York tied the score on Yogi Berra's double, singles by Irv Noren and pinch hitter Elston Howard, a walk, an error and an infield out. Another double by Berra, plus a walk and two singles added a Yankee run in the eighth and winning pitcher Tommy Byrne homered in the ninth.

Pierce Gets No. 10
Left-hander Billy Pierce of the White Sox became the first American league pitcher to win 10 games when he defeated the Orioles, 5-1, with the aid of homers by Minnie Minoso and Larry Doby. Pierce scattered eight hits and struck out eight as he kept the second-place White Sox within 5 1-2 games of the Yankees.

Home runs by Vic Wertz and Al Smith helped the Indians snap a six-game losing streak with a 5-7 triumph over the Red Sox. Wertz' 16th homer with two on climaxed a six-run uprising in the second inning but it was Smith's two-run homer in the fourth that turned out to be the decisive blow. Bob Lemon notched his eighth victory although knocked out in the ninth when the Red Sox rallied for three runs. Ted Lepcio homered for Boston.

Roy Sievers drove in five runs with his 16th and 17th homers to lead Washington to a 10-5 victory over Kansas City. Bunky Stewart went the route for the Senators to gain his third victory although he gave up homers to Hector Lopez, Harry Simpson and Joe DeMaestri. Jose Santiago was the loser.

Night Thursday, 7 p. m. In Kiwanis League

Two night games have been scheduled in the Kiwanis league play for Thursday and Friday. The games will be played at 8 o'clock.

The game Thursday night will be between the Pickford team, composed of boys 13-14 years of age in the Three-I league and a team from Crab Orchard.

Friday night, Pankey's Kitty league team of boys 11 and 12, will play Raleigh.

Both games will be played under lights at the new ball park across from the fairgrounds. The general public and especially the parents of the boys in the Kiwanis summer program are invited to these games or to any of the daytime league games which are played at 2 p. m., 4 p. m. and 6 p. m. These games will give the public an idea of what the Kiwanis club is doing in sponsoring the summer recreation program for the boys of the community.

3,281,624 Motor Vehicles Registered In State This Year

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Motor vehicle registration for the first five months of 1956 totaled 3,281,624, an increase of 175,298 over the same period last year, the secretary of state's office said today.

Passenger car registration through May totaled 2,782,621, compared with 2,634,781 last year.

Shawneetown Boat Club Organized

The Shawneetown Boat Club has been organized and a meeting is scheduled for Thursday night to which all those interested in becoming a member are invited to attend.

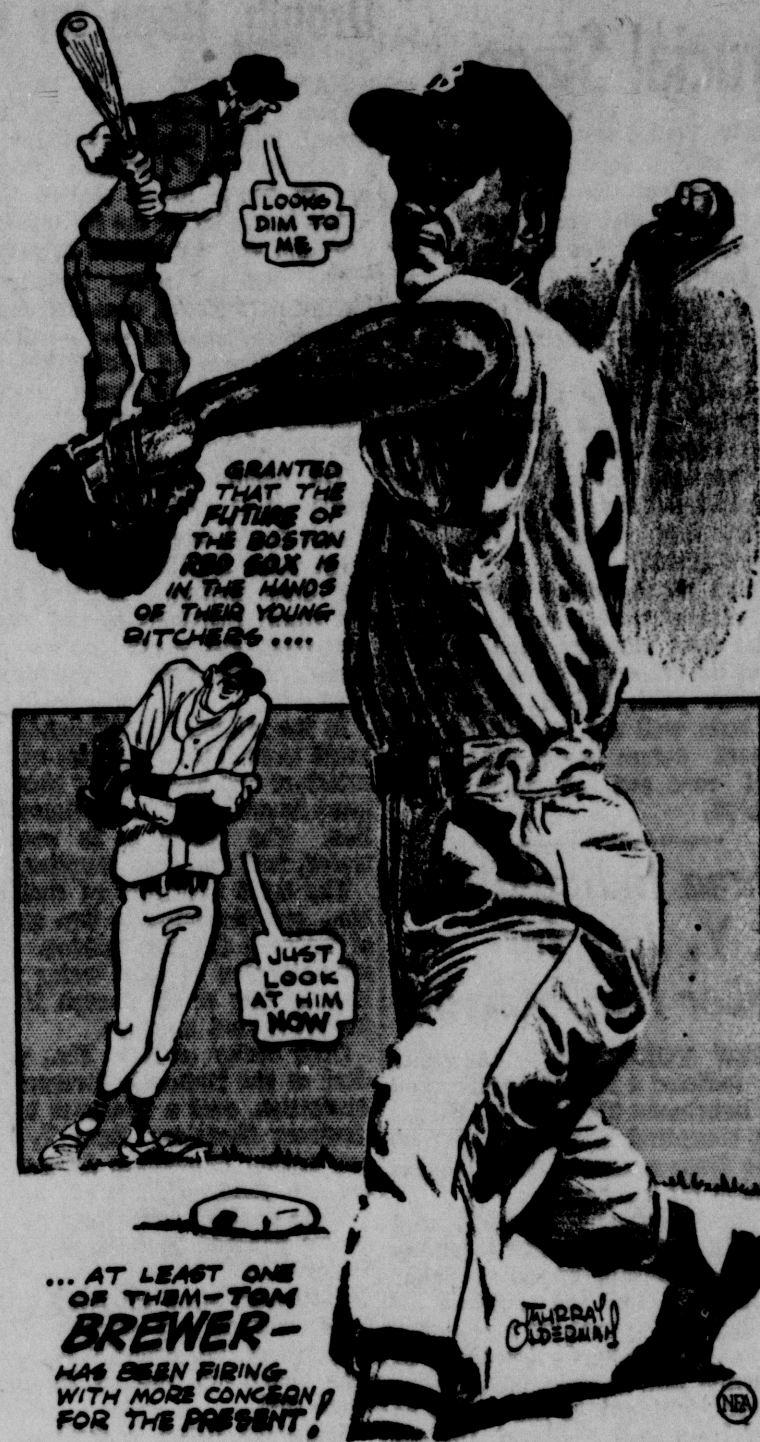

Thursday's meeting, starting at 8 p. m., will be held in the American Legion home at Shawneetown. Anyone interested in boat-ing is urged to be present.

Joe E. Wright of Shawneetown is the club president; Paul Jones, Ridgway, is vice president; Bob Wright, Shawneetown, secretary-treasurer, Rudy Phillips of Shawneetown, membership chairman and Mrs. Phyllis Gregg, Harrisburg, program chairman.

Mrs. Gregg stated today the group planned many activities for the summer months, including mass boat trips on the Ohio river. Pennants for the boats have been ordered, so each boat in the organization will be properly identified.

Plans call for the building of boat docks and a paid attendant, so that boats may be left at the river at all times.

Reds, Sugar Creeks and Dairy Brands Win Kiwanis League Games

By David Nelson

The Reds edged Walker's Cleaners, 16-15; Sugar Creek Produce defeated Jackson's Drugs, 19-15, and Dairy Brand downed the Braves, 21-8, in Kiwanis league baseball games played Tuesday.

Walker's rallied for six runs in the last inning but couldn't quite make it as they were edged by the Reds, 16-15. The Reds scored one run in the second, two in the third, 10 in the fourth and three in the fifth on 10 hits and 10 walks. The losing Walker's tallied two in the first, one in the second, three in the third, three in the fourth and six in the fifth on 11 safeties and 13 bases on balls.

For the winners at bat, Pool had a home run and a double, Vick doubled and singled, Bebout singled twice and Vinyard and Kolasinski hit safely once each. Cannon led Walker's at the plate with a home run and two singles; Wiley had three hits, Questelle homered and doubled, Pavelski homered and Hickey and Degracio had one hit apiece to round out the losers' attack. Pool pitched for the winning Reds and Hodson took the loss.

Sugar Creek scored seven runs the last half of the fifth to give the winning margin over Jackson's, 19-15. Pitchers were wild in this game as there was a total of 13 walks and four hit batsmen. The winners scored two in the first, six in the second, four in the fourth and seven in the fifth on 11 hits. The losers racked up three in the first, four in the second, six in the fourth and two in the sixth on 11 hits.

Shelton was Sugar Creek's leading hitter, getting a home run, double and single in four trips to the plate. Cuslist, Karnes and Wiley had two safe blows each and Wilson and Hopkins picked up a single apiece to finish out the attack. Gee led Jackson's at bat with a homer and two singles, Kihlmire had three singles, Johnson singled twice and Hegglin, Gulley, C. Wollesen and D. Wollesen picked up a safety each. Karnes was the winning pitcher, while Gee and Hegglin pitched for the losers.

Dairy Brand scored 12 runs in the first inning and then coasted to a 21-8 victory over the Braves.

Eldorado Merchants

To Play at Carterville

The Eldorado Merchants, beaten 8-7 last Sunday, travel to Carterville to meet the Stars this coming Sunday. There also will be a practice session at 5:30 p. m. Friday.

The Merchants were beat at Eldorado Sunday by the Princeton, Ind., Lions. Trailing, the Eldorado nine rallied for two runs in the last of the ninth and had the tying run on third with but one out, but could not get the tying run across.

For Eldorado, Sandusky and Irvin pitched with Irvin and Grubs behind the plate. Robertson pitched for Princeton with Al-lereilli catching.

Rory Calhoun, Willie
Vaughn Bout Friday
Will Be Telecast by WSIL

Undeclared Rory Calhoun, the opera lover with the rock 'n roll wallop, attempts to move a step closer to a middleweight title bout with Sugar Ray Robinson when he tackles experienced Californian Willie Vaughn in a 10-round video bout at Madison Square Garden June 22.

Calhoun, undefeated in 21 bouts in which he has scored 11 knock-outs, and whose two idols are Mozart and Marciano will be tackling one of his most experienced foes to date when he battles the rugged California middleweight champion from Hollywood Vaughn, at 23, two years older than Calhoun, won the California crown in 1953, lost it twice in 1954 and recaptured it in 1955.

Vaughn, a native of Chandler, Texas, is a fine boxer and good puncher who will thoroughly test Calhoun's claim that he will be the middleweight champion within two years.

The fight Friday at 8 p. m. will be telecast by WSIL.

Truman Receives Honorary Degree From Oxford Over Woman's Objection

OXFORD, England (AP)—Oxford University presented its highest non-graduate honor today to Harry S. Truman over the objections of a woman professor who protested his decision to drop the atomic bomb in World War II.

Mr. Truman, wearing the scarlet robe of an Oxford scholar and a

Sizzling Heat Wave Blows Up Tornadic Winds

By United Press
A sizzling heat wave staged a comeback in the Midwest today, blowing up tornadic winds in its battle with cool air.

The violent winds ripped parts of Illinois, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota. Tornado funnels curled out of the skies near Fairbault, Minn., and Kimball, S. D., but no great damage was reported.

The storms coincided with temperatures which jumped 8 to 12 degrees in the Great Lakes area. It was sad news for sweltering midwesterners, who enjoyed some relief from a marathon heat wave Tuesday.

The hot, dry weather had never gone away through vast areas of the Great Plains and Southwest.

Western Illinois absorbed the storms' worst blasts Tuesday night. At Pittsfield near-tornadic winds lifted a concrete block building housing Radio Station WBBA from its foundation and blew it across a highway. Three persons were injured in the area and police re-routed traffic to get cars around downed trees and wires.

A three-inch cloudburst near Kewanee touched off a brief disaster alert and made highways impassable for a while. In Iowa, where temperatures passed the 100-degree mark in three cities, rains came close to the three-inch mark.

A downpour of 3.61 inches hit Plankinton, S. D.

The Weather Bureau warned more storms and heavy hail could boil up today on a line from St. Louis, Mo., to Grantsburg, Wis.

Another storm belt raged over the Rockies. A wind gust blew down a two-story wall at Casper, Wyo., killing a carpenter, and a lightning bolt killed a farmer near Trinidad, Colo.

There are free services available but in nearly all cases it is the farmer who already is prosperous who is the one who is taking advantage of them.

Develop Our Attractions
After telling of the types of persons who settled in southern Illinois, and of factionalism and strife that has been a part of the history, he declared that "waiting for a factory" can paralyze a community. "Enticing industry is the most competitive business in the country," he stated. "With all the competition, these towns with 'waiting for industry disease'—these towns that cannot see the need for community development—are they going to measure up to all the others seeking a factory?"

"We must put our house in order first," he answered. "We're trying to sell our towns. There's no reason why we cannot develop because we have the resources and intelligence and all we need is for people to do the job."

"We must develop our attractions," he continued. "We must look squarely at the problems we have to solve and act. We must look at the community as a whole, with every part related to every other part. You must ask yourself some questions including: Are the channels for democratic action open? Are people afraid to express opinions for fear of losing business? and others."

Urges Discussion Periods
"If the forces of democratic action cannot work in your town, you can kiss the idea of a factory goodbye. You can solve your problems in Saline county by releasing the force of democracy."

Mr. Poston said that "right here in Saline county there is all the money needed to build the new industries needed—but we don't have the faith in ourselves. We want the fellow from Chicago to come in and risk his money."

Before a county or area-wide organization is formed, Mr. Poston suggested that each community should first examine itself. He urged discussion periods in the various communities as a starter, to determine what problems can be solved right now.

Church to Hold Series of Meetings

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold a series of meetings at 10 East O'Garra street, beginning June 24 and continuing to July 8, except Saturdays. The meetings will start at 7:30 each evening.

The speaker will be Seventy Cecil Robbins, formerly of Canada. Everyone is invited.

fluffy "doctor's hat," became an Oxonian doctor of civil laws in the centuries-old pomp of an Oxford commencement.

The presentation completed Oxford's own "thank you" for U. S. foreign aid after the war. It already had given the same honorary degree to Mr. Truman's secretaries of state, George C. Marshall (1947) and Dean Acheson (1952).

Marshall and Acheson were nominated for the honor without opposition. But Miss Gladys Elizabeth Anscombe, a philosophy instructor at one of Oxford's women's colleges, opposed awarding the honor to the former president.

"If you do give this honor," she protested at a faculty meeting, "what Nero, what Genghis Khan, what Hitler or what Stalin will not be honored in the future?"

It was the first time in the memory of university officials that a protest had been raised against the awarding of an honorary degree. But she was overruled after a lively debate and today Mr. Truman got his degree.

Steel Talks in Crucial Stage

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel wage negotiations that will profoundly affect the nation's economy entered the crucial stage today with both sides deadlocked on key contract issues.

Both sides appeared to be negotiating from positions that are "miles apart."

Industry sources said an economy-crippling strike was more than "just a possibility at this time." A top union negotiator said the outlook right now "is not too optimistic, but while there's time there's hope."

Union negotiators will meet today with at least nine companies. The steel industry appears united in its offensive for a five-year no-strike pact, a fact which does not bode well for a peaceful settlement before the present contract runs out at midnight on June 30.

Three Indicted by N. Y. Jury for Labor Racketeering

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury indicted a labor racketeer and two henchmen Tuesday on charges they conspired to accept a $30,000 bribe from a manufacturer to get a union off his back.

The indictment charged that John Dioguardi, known as Johnny Dio, set himself up as a "labor consultant" for the purpose of "selling labor peace for a price."

Dio, 42, previously convicted of extortion and income tax evasion, was so confident of his ability to control unions, Assistant District Attorney Harold A. Birns said, that he offered to post a $50,000 bond to assure that he would end strikes at the Kings Electro Plating Company of Brooklyn and the Kings Automatic Plating Company of the borough of Queens.

Leonard Kornblum, a partner in the two firms, actually paid $10,000 of the bribe in two installments, the charge said, but Dio and his accused co-conspirators were unable to gain control of the union, a unit of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers independent union.

Also named in the indictment were Samuel Goldstein, president of local 239 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and Max Chester, secretary-treasurer of Local 405 of the Retail Clerks International Association until he was expelled by the parent union last March.

Chester was ousted by the union after his indictment in another shakedown charge.

Thomas J. Watson, Founder of IBM Corporation, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—The body of Thomas J. Watson, founder and board chairman of a vast business machines empire, lay in state in the chapel of the Brick Presbyterian church today.

Funeral services for Watson, who died of a heart ailment Tuesday at the age of 82, will be held in the church Thursday. All offices of his International Business Machines Corp. throughout the world will be closed Thursday.

Watson became president of the Computing - Tabulating - recording Co. in 1914 and 10 years later merged it with International Business Machines Corp. At the time of his death, IBM operated plants in six U. S. cities and 15 foreign countries. Its total gross assets were listed last year as $629,510,998.

Expect Ike to State Plans After Leaving Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House official said today he expects President Eisenhower to issue a new public statement on his second term intentions after he leaves Walter Reed Hospital.

The official, who cannot be quoted by name, predicted the statement will be issued sometime between July 4 and July 15, probably while the President is convalescing at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Mr. Eisenhower continued his gradual resumption of official duties today. He met with French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau in a 10-minute hospital room conference.

Southwest's Farmers, Stricken by Drouth, Hope for Gov't Relief, Rain

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Dry, hot weather intensified a devastating drouth in the Southwest today.

Farmers and livestock producers in many areas staked their hopes for relief on the federal government and the chance of rain.

The afflicted areas include 11 northwest Missouri counties, southwest Iowa, western and northwest Kansas, parts of Nebraska and Oklahoma, and 78 Texas counties running from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande.

The drouth is more than four years old in some sections.

Anti-drouth measures include an "Operation Haylift" to aid suffering Iowa farmers. Hay is being cut along roadsides in the state's northeast and north central portions for shipment to the drouth area.

In the Missouri drouth-lands, the earth is rock-hard because of lack moisture and acute water shortage have developed in many communities. The region is in need of water, feed and seed supplies.

The 3,000 residents of Bethany, Mo., are restricted to two gallons of water a day for bathing. City officials plan to ship water from Kansas City or St. Joseph if conditions do not improve.

Oren Staley of Ray, Mo., president of the National Farmers Organization, sent a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson urging immediate federal aid for the stricken Missouri area.

Even soaking rains now will not revive parched pastures until fall, Staley said.

Cattlemen were reported selling out in western and northwest Kansas, where the drought is nearly five years old and at its worst since 1951.

Secretary Glenn Pickett of the Kansas Livestock Assn. said many western Kansas pastures are "bare as a road."

"I know hundreds of cattlemen who have sold completely out since March," he said. "The auction markets usually are closed now in the northwest, yet recently they have had the biggest runs they ever had."

From the federal government came a report that June 1 range conditions in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma were the worst since 1937.

About Town And Country

schoolteacher drove up in a Renault and asked her what the trouble was.

"I've lost the whole motor," the lady wailed.

"You're in luck," the other assured her. "Fortunately I seem to have an extra one in my trunk."

STANLEY SUTTON of the local Dairy Queen was telling me about the raft of free ice cream cones he put out the past couple of weeks—1,398 of them by count.

He decided to treat all the Vacation Bible school pupils and the above figure is the number to take advantage. Part of the groups were taken to his place on Route 45. The ice cream was sent to some of the bigger groups.

All in all, pupils at 15 Vacation Bible schools were treated. That was all in the Harrisburg community except the Salvation Army school, and Sutton was hoping to get these pupils as a group before many days pass.

North Dakota averages about a dozen tornadoes a year with only about half that number doing damage.

AF Sergeant Dies In Auto Accident

SUMTER, S. C. (AP)—Staff Sgt. Lewis E. Robert, 23, Shaw Air Force Base, was killed Tuesday night when the automobile he was driving overturned twice.

Airman 3 C. Marshall K. Gray, 19, of the same squadron, was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as serious.

The highway patrol said Robert apparently lost control of the automobile which ran off the road before overturning.

Robert's home address was listed by the Air Force as East Hartford, Conn., and Gray was from Willow Hill, Ill.
